SALLR FORUM

delegates are able to participate in discussions, online, subsequent to the seminar

The requirement that professionals keep up-to-date with the knowledge and skills required to execute their functions is the cornerstone of all recognised professions. Simply put, an out-of-date practitioner is not a competent practitioner. This commitment to career-long learning is termed CPD and the SALLR, in conjunction with IPM and SABPP, proudly drives this process.

- unique categorisation of content
- insightful questions and customised answers
- identification of trends
- selection of relevant topics
- cross-references to publications, judgments, awards, rulings, etc
